Where is it?
Just off Mattock Lane which runs parallel to Uxbridge Road / Ealing New Broadway.

How can I get there?
Walpole Park is less than a ten minute walk from Ealing Broadway station (District and Central Lines). South Ealing (Piccadilly Line) is another nearby tube station. From Ealing Broadway station there are also overland train routes from Paddington to Reading.
Major bus routes include 65 from the South (Richmond), 207, 427, 607. East-West routes (from Shepherd’s Bush towards Uxbridge), 83 from the North (Golders Green). Others include 112, 226, 297, E1, E2, E3, E7, E8, E9, E10 and E11.

Where can I park?
Limited paid parking is available at Springbridge Road and Ealing Broadway Shopping Centre car parks, as well as some pay and display parks around Walpole Park. However where at all possible we encourage visitors to use public transport.

I’m disabled, are there any special parking arrangements for me?
Unfortunately not, but there are designated disabled bays by the small gate to the park on Mattock lane, you can also use either residents bays or pay & display bays on Mattock lane. Blue Badge must be displayed.

What other information is there for disabled people?
The Ealing Comedy Festival is our only seated event. Booking your ticket by phone rather than by the internet is encouraged so that you can be allocated an appropriate seat. We also offer a 2 for 1 ticket scheme whereby disabled customers can bring a carer or friend to the event for free (booking and transaction fees will apply).
The event is held in a park so although there are pathways into the park, the event itself takes place on the grass. Disabled toilet facilities are provided at the event. Guide dogs can remain seated next to the customer. There is no infra-red headset or loop hearing system in place in the auditorium.

What isn’t allowed?
No glass is to be brought onto the site. Animals, except for guide dogs, are not permitted onsite. No alcohol can be bought onto site upon re-entry with a festival wrist band, bar provided.

Tweet on event days using #ESFHelp with any queries and we will endeavour to assist.
CYCLING FESTIVAL
Sunday, 1 July 10am to 3pm
Churchfields, Hanwell.

Sunday, 8 July 10am to 3pm
Northala Fields, Northolt.

Free festival with live entertainment, a pedal powered cinema and smoothie maker, kids’ activities, BMX and balance bikes, a giant inflatable obstacle course, yoga for cyclists and a picnic area. Plus fun, family-friendly led rides exploring green spaces and canal towpaths departing every hour. All abilities welcome.

SOCIAL RIDES
14 July, 11 August and 8 September.

Explore the area on two wheels, meet new people and discover more cycling routes with a qualified ride leader – see website for details.

CYCLING CINEMA
Sunday, 26 August at 8.30pm, Lammas Park, Ealing.

Enjoy a fantastic evening of film run entirely on pedal power.

See www.ealing.gov.uk/summerofcycling for details of all our cycling events.

Ealing Cycling Campaign and West London Breeze also offer free rides all summer, check their websites for details.
Every year we endeavour to reduce the festival’s environmental impact by providing recycling facilities and ensuring our traders use biodegradable plates and cups. Below are some tips on how you can help us be more eco-friendly:

- Arrive in style and avoid the hassle of parking; use public transport, or better yet, cycle (racks provided) or walk. See information for transport links on the FAQ page.

- In support of Ealing’s commitment to recycle 50% of our waste by 2018, please use the recycling bins available for recycling plastic, paper, card and cans.
